

Stanford | Summer Humanities Institute

Become a Humanities Scholar This Summer

3 Weeks • Grades 10 - 11
Residential Program

Stanford Summer Humanities Institute allows rising high school juniors and seniors to dive deep into the humanities and explore rich fields of inquiry that are rarely taught at the high school level.

Humanities Enrichment

Tap into Stanford University's excellence in the humanities and social sciences—exploring texts and ideas at a profound level, writing college-level papers, and communicating complex arguments in their academic writing and discussion sections.

Profound Conversations

Throughout the session, participants have the chance to discuss powerful ideas that they are exposed to in lectures, readings, and discussion sections.

Passionate Peers

Live and study alongside fellow participants from around the world who are similarly interested in the humanities. Learn to understand the past, question the present, and imagine the future with a community of curious, independent thinkers.

Program Dates:

Session One: June 23 – July 12, 2024
Session Two: July 14 – August 2, 2024

Tuition: $8,250

Financial Aid: Both full and partial scholarships are available.

Application Deadline: February 1, 2024
Learn more and apply: summerhumanities.stanford.edu

Scan to Learn More